

Stash Report

I've had some goodies come my way.

I have a blog reader named Sue from Manchester, Iowa. She recently took a quilt to my friend Carla of Longarm Quilting Inspirations to be quilted. With it she brought goodies for me. Aren't the bright colors awesome?

The two pieces at the top are flannels. I'm hoping to use them for some baby burp cloths. I've been wanting to make some and haven't gotten to it. THANKS so much Sue. I really appreciate it. I hope you love the job Carla did on your quilt. I think she does amazing work!

My friend Connie who is one of the most thoughtful people I know sent me a piece of purple fabric. I had said that I wanted to make Bonnie Hunter's Midnight Flight quilt. I also mentioned that purple isn't a fabric that I had very much of...so Connie to the rescue. I love the print...don't you?

I think it's a perfect print for Midnight Flight. With the red triangles in it...perfect.

That's all the goodies for me. I sure appreciate the thoughtfulness.

To see what others are doing with their fabric collections check out Patchwork Times.